Dear Mr. Zhao:

I am pleased to inform you of your selection to participate in the 2024 Global Undergraduate Exchange Program (Global UGRAD). The citizens of the United States have funded this educational exchange program through the United States Department of State to promote increased mutual understanding between the United States and China.

The U.S. Department of State's Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs, the U.S. Embassy's Public Affairs Section, and private company World Learning work together to develop and implement this program. The Embassy and World Learning will contact you with updates about the status of your program, as well as the terms and conditions of your scholarship, your visa, program start date, pre-departure orientation, and placement at a host college or university in the United States.

Your scholarship provides round-trip travel from your home city to your U.S. host college or university, tuition, housing and meals, and a small stipend for living expenses for the period of the program. Your participation in the Global UGRAD Exchange Program will be contingent upon your final TOEFL score and your ability to obtain and maintain a U.S. exchange visitor visa.

Congratulations on your selection! This is an exciting time of your life, and this program will provide you experiences and friendships you will treasure for decades to come.

Sincerely,
